

November 24, 2016

Dear Neighbor,

- "I'm proud that the Highland Park Public Library is my Library"*
- "Very appealing atmosphere"*
- "It's a safe place"*
- "A welcoming and personable staff"*
- "All ages are in the Library together"*
- "The Library has become the center of Highland Park life"*

These are some comments by Highland Park residents about the Library, offered during the development of our Strategic Plan. We are proud to play an important part in our town. To continue to provide the services that Borough residents have come to expect, we need your support. The dollars you donate today will be multiplied many times in purchasing library materials to be used over and over again by members of our community and in providing programs and services for all of our residents.

Different audiences come to the library throughout the day, from toddlers, to teenagers, to adults. We are doing our best to keep up with technology while also offering traditional services. You can download our Highland Park Public Library app on your smart phone and make use of our desktop computer stations. You can enjoy the artwork on display in the meeting room and curl up in a chair to browse magazines and books. And you can attend any of the more than 300 public programs we present yearly—everything from children's programs to films, writing workshops, author readings, lectures, and even CPR training, coloring for adults and Chinese story time. We constantly strive to improve our services and our facility in order to make your library experience even better.

You may use your tax-deductible donation to honor the memory of a loved one or pay tribute to family and friends. We also welcome major donations to underwrite specific programs or to support library hours and operations. Our Director, Jane Stanley, will be happy to discuss a major donation with you—you may contact her at 732-572-2750.

For whatever you can do, please know you have the heartfelt appreciation and gratitude of the Highland Park community.

Sincerely,

Bruce Tucker
President, Board of Trustees